

DOE 2017 Transition Frequently Asked Questions

WHAT: DOE mandate requires changes in product-line.

WHY: DOE is significantly reducing US energy demand in the commercial refrigeration industry.

WHEN: All Styleline[®] products made after June 5, 2017, will conform to new efficiencies and requirements.

HOW DOES THIS AFFECT ME?

- Styleline[®] production capacity between now and June 5, 2017, is completely allocated.
- Product transition requires factory retooling.
- Current product demand needs to be converted to new and improved models.
- New orders will begin shipping week of June 19, 2017.
- Existing quotes and orders will be price protected during this transition period.
- On-line Quote system is being updated with new products and will be available at a later date.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION:

- Changes do not impact replacement parts and components for existing installations.
- Any delay in product availability will be short term as production lines are re-established.
- New product designs will be more energy efficient and outperform some existing models.
